preface

School of Educators is a journal based on school education. The real source of information behind this effort are your favorable responses to our E-Journal 'School of Educators'. We have received various positive responses across the world, therefore, we have come up with a handy resource in the form of printed third edition of journal. I believe a lot can be achieved if educator are in continuous practice of reading, learning and thus practicing.

The journal is highly meant for school heads, teachers, other educators, professionals, researchers, students and parents. There is a great opportunity for all of you to develop your knowledge based on school related topics and practicing it widely to improve school education. I have much hope that like our E-Journal, the printed journal will also receive the patronage of all concerned with the quality of school education.
